Teachers and Leadership

with instructor Stuart Schwartzman, Ed.D.

Fall 2021 • For Graduates Course Number 690.02 • CRN 60763 • 3 Credits

The challenge for educators is to create an environment in which students can flourish. The goal of developing life long learners and motivating students to value and appreciate classroom activities has often been shifted from classroom teachers to testing services. Discussions will center on leadership methods for teachers so that creativity and independence can return to the profession. Incorporating those concepts into every teacher's curriculum and including engaging problem solving strategies into the classroom should mitigate against the pressure and alienation of the testing climate. Teachers should be able to react to and lead the every day challenge of students with classroom anxiety, standardized testing anxiety, and the lack of "critical thinking" embedded curricula. This should be accomplished by immersion in a participatory atmosphere within a cooperative environment and a willingness to restructure classroom activities. FOR ALL TEACHERS AND STAFF K-12: Language Arts, Science, Family and Consumer Sciences, Mathematics, Social Studies, World Languages, Special Education, Music, Art, Fine Arts, Physical Ed., Technology Ed., Health, Guidance.
